“Noi con Voi” “Together with You”

An Active Aging Project: Staying close, even when far apart, to enrich daily social life.

In partnership with the Municipality of Pavia and the Vasi di Creta Association, the Danesino Foundation offers a virtual space to combat loneliness among older adults by fostering an active, supportive network. The initiative provides regular opportunities for connection through virtual meetings, helping to build meaningful new relationships.

The primary goal is to empower and support the knowledge and intellectual potential of older individuals while cultivating intergenerational solidarity. The project encourages young people to engage with seniors on a variety of topics—such as art, culture, and music—through structured activities including conversations, book readings, music appreciation, and art courses featuring visual explorations.

Driven by the work of young computer engineers who evaluated the specific needs of their grandparents and other seniors, the Danesino Foundation developed "Noi con Voi", a user-friendly digital platform. The system enables older adults to easily connect from home using a smartphone, PC, or tablet to converse with one another.

To bridge the digital divide, the Foundation provides necessary hardware and internet access to elderly individuals who lack a computer or a Wi-Fi connection. These virtual sessions are organized and coordinated by young volunteers and university students from the Department of Brain and Behavioral Sciences at the University of Pavia.

Remote direction and technical support

For each meeting, the senior connecting to the session simply needs to click an icon on their desktop.

The pilot project launched last year is already yielding highly positive outcomes, prompting participants over the age of 65 to request an increase in the frequency of weekly meetings. Because the Foundation operates on a national scale, there are no geographical restrictions on participation. Looking ahead, this nationwide reach will enable older adults from diverse locations to connect, fostering new cognitive and emotional enrichment. Consequently, this scalable project model can be exported and shared with other public and private entities.

Next Steps:

- Launch a targeted communication campaign aimed at families with elderly members.
- Extend direct invitations to attend meetings to older individuals living alone.
- Implement an automated IT platform to facilitate direct meeting coordination among seniors.
- Promote a collaborative network among stakeholders in elderly care to facilitate shared use of the platform.
